

Mold Remediation

The presence of microbial growth in homes or buildings is an indicator of an underlying issue with water or moisture. It's imperative to promptly identify and eliminate mold to prevent further complications. ATP Restoration is a certified Mold & Microbial Remediation company accredited by the IICRC. Our team of expert mold remediation technicians strictly adheres to established protocols and utilizes effective techniques to resolve your mold issues. As a comprehensive restoration company, we offer a complete solution, managing everything from the removal of damaged materials to the reconstruction of your home or building, restoring it to its pre-loss condition.

Our services include:

- Professional Microbial testing: Through the services of a Microbial Hygienist, we will identify the specific type of mold present in your residence and collect the mold spore count present in the air. This is important when determining the proper protocol for remediation.
- Document mold concerns: After we review the results from the mold test, we will begin to discuss the next steps for remediation.
- Perform Remediation: The most important aspect of proper remediation is the safety of our clients and crews; this includes avoiding exposure to mold while performing remediation. Proper safety restrictions include:
 - Wearing proper personal protective equipment (PPE) at all times
 - Isolating and containment of the contaminated area
 - Removing wet and/or damaged porous materials
 - Placing all materials removed in sealed, industrial bags for proper discarding
 - Performing additional treatment as needed per protocol
- Once we have completed the job, we will call in a third-party hygienist to confirm proper remediation has taken place. This will result in a passed "Air Quality Test"
- Finally, services conclude by restoring your home/business to its pre-loss condition.
